

I'm in good company.

Katharina, Consultant

Associate Consultant Intern (m/w/d)

Bain & Company is an international management consultancy that assists executive decision-makers around the globe in shaping the future. Working closely with our clients, we help them set new standards in their industries.

Job description

As an Associate Consultant Intern, you'll be a full-fledged member of a project team from day one, independently working on a defined part of the overall project. In this role, not only will you gain first-hand insights into the challenging work of a strategy consultancy – you'll also be involved in a lively exchange across academic disciplines, working side by side with Bain colleagues and people from the client organization.

The duration of the internship is 10 to 12 weeks; your home office will be Vienna, Austria.

Your profile

We are looking for outstanding university students from all fields from the 4th Bachelor semester onwards.

How to apply

Feel free to apply any time. Make sure to submit your application at least three months before your intended start of an internship, using our online application tool.
